

ACTUARIAL SCIENCE CONCENTRATION

WITH A B.S.,
MATHEMATICS

WHY CHOOSE MATHEMATICS WITH AN ACTUARIAL SCIENCE CONCENTRATION?

In USJ's Mathematics program, students pursuing a concentration in Actuarial Science cultivate strong analytical, logical, and problem-solving skills. Following the recommendations of the Society of Actuaries (SOA) and the Casualty Actuarial Society (CAS), USJ's curriculum prepares students to pass the first two actuarial exams administered by the organizations prior to graduation. Students' coursework also satisfies Validation by Educational Experience (VEE) requirements in Economics and Corporate Finance.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

With an education rooted in the latest actuarial science practices, students become valuable candidates in a competitive market. Their degree brings together mathematics, statistics, computer science, economics, and finance, ensuring they can serve in numerous settings, including:

- » Insurance
- » Consultation Agencies
- » Banks and Investment Firms
- » Private Corporations
- » Government Organizations
- » Public Accounting Firms
